

ALYOKHINA SVETLANA VASILYEVNA, candidate of Philology, associate professor. Manages section of Russian preparatory office.

Graduated from the T. G. Shevchenko Kiev State University (specialty: philologist, teacher of Russian language and Russian literature).

Scientific interests: 1) actual problems of a technique of teaching Russian / Ukrainian languages as foreign; 2) problems of cross-cultural communication in multiethnic audience of foreign students; 3) the accounting of future specialty of students in the educational and scientific sphere of communication; 4) application of multimedia technologies at the initial stage of training of students foreigners in Russian.

Has more than 100 publications of scientific articles, materials of reports, educational and methodical grants, practical works.

Creates and actively uses in educational process the interactive presentations, including on an electronic board: "We study the Russian alphabet", "An introduction lingvosubjective course", and also the various country study and culturological presentations. Develops programs and holds scientific and practical conferences for students of the preparatory office. Participates in the organization and holding of the Olympic Games for Russian.

Level of proficiency in languages: Ukrainian C1, Russian C2