

KOSYAK (BEDRENKO) VALENTINA IVANOVNA, a senior lecturer.

She graduated with honors from the Physics and Mathematics Faculty of Ukrainian Pedagogical University n. a. M.P. Dragomanov (major "teacher of mathematics and physics").

She has been teaching mathematics, basics of information and computer science and drawing in the National Aviation University since 2003.

Academic interest: 1) development of software on the basics of computer science and computer engineering and drawing for the students of the preparatory division; 2) the use of new technologies for teaching natural sciences; 3) computer testing as a method of control of foreign students learning outcomes in terms of credit-modular system.

Annually she takes part in international scientific conferences; also, she is one of the organizers of student conferences and competitions. She is the author of 2 workbooks.

She trains foreign students annually for performance with reports at student's conference of university.

Language level: Ukrainian C2, Russian C2